

Educational Lola Panda games suite accelerates to 2 million downloads

BeiZ Ltd's Lola Panda games suite have passed another stunning milestone as its games have been now downloaded on over 2 million devices - entertaining and educating children worldwide with apps available on iOS, Mac OS, Android, Amazon Kindle Fire, Nintendo 3DS/DSi, and Windows Mobile. To celebrate the occasion, BeiZ announces the release of their newest app, I Spy With Lola FREE: A Fun Clue Game for Kids!, an adventure-packed hidden-clue game for Android and iOS devices.

The success of the Lola Panda suite has accelerated remarkably in the past couple of months. The suite hit its first million app downloads in less than 2 years and Lola raced past the second million milestone just four months later powered by the release of the two latest games, Lola's Math Train and I Spy With Lola. "With new Lola Panda apps coming out during the spring 2013, we are sure Lola Panda suite's popularity will grow even faster than before," says CEO Mika Heikinheimo.

I Spy With Lola FREE, the 6th Lola Panda app, invites children to join Lola Panda on an adventure around the world to complete exciting tasks. The app includes fun challenges for children of all ages as they practice object and word association, vocabulary and shape recognition. Besides the FREE version there is also a full version of the game that includes medium and hard levels for older children from three to nine years old with more places to travel, letters to learn and riddles to solve.

I Spy With Lola FREE is available for free on the App Store for iPad and iPhone, and Android version on the Google Play Store and Amazon Kindle market for Kindle Fire by searching "Lola Panda".

I Spy With Lola FREE Key Features:

- Find dozens of hidden objects from around the world
- High-quality graphics and animation
- Spoken and easy to understand instructions
